Introduction to Methodology in Africana Studies

Course meets remotely and synchronously via Zoom on Wednesdays from 6:40pm-9:30pm

Spring 2021

This course explores how the philosophical underpinnings of Africana Studies influence the questions we ask within this emergent discipline. Learn how to uncover the hidden stories of Black peoples and their experiences through innovative investigative techniques. We will identify various approaches to research within the interdisciplinary field of Africana Studies, examine major archival resources, and apply critical reasoning skills toward writing a research proposal.

LEARN HOW TO CONDUCT RESEARCH
EVALUATE JOURNAL ARTICLES
DEVELOP CRITICAL THINKING AND ANALYTIC SKILLS
BECOME AN INFORMED CONSUMER OF INFORMATION

Taught by

DR. KAVITHA RAMSAMY
Department of Africana Studies
kavitha@africana.rutgers.edu

Course number 01:014:233
Index number 07226